

broke his leg when he fell from the box immediately after he had shot the President.

It is said that this same clergyman had, upon several occasions, hinted that he was Wilkes Booth. The rumor being circulated among his congregation, the minister found it advisable to move farther south, and a newspaper interview in the year 1893, tells that the mysterious clergyman was once secretly visited in a Georgia town by Edwin Booth, and that the two were closeted in private conversation for hours.

Another story relates that Booth was able to escape through all the southern states until he reached Mexico, being disguised as a Confederate soldier. This seems highly improbable, for in the south at the time only a little precaution would have been necessary for him to have found a safe convoy to whichever section he might wish to go. F. W. Bates, a Tennessee lawyer, some years ago wrote a book, in which he said that he met a man in Texas in 1868 who con-

WHAT BECAME OF WILKES BOOTH.

What became of Wilkes Booth the murderer of President Lincoln? Was he shot by Boston Corbett in the Virginia barn to which he had been racked atter he had fled from Ford's Theater, Washington, immediately following the assassination? If this man was Wilkes Booth, why was there so runch myster yeagraing his burial? It is hard to believe other mediately flow the country which would naurally have been friendly to him and, changing his name, became and Episcopal minister. There are those whe knew this south, and she possessed Wilkes Booth, and that he also had his manner been and the solve of the country which would naurally have been friendly to him and, changing his name, became and proved the country which would naurally have been friendly to him and, changing his name, became and proved the power ment.

The solve a solve for the country which would naurally have been friendly to him and, changing his name, became and proved the country which would naurally have been friendly to him and, changing his name, became and proved the country which would naurally have been friendly to him and, changing his name, became and proved the semilance to the Booth family; that he possessed Wilkes Booth. The are those who knew this souther should have been with the body. Then an officer came of the country which would naturally have been friendly to him and, changing his name, became an Episcopal minister. There are those who knew this souther should have the president.

It is said that this same designed and the been killed in the tobacco barn. It was months hore his given out by the control of the country which would not the province of the province o n this thirsty liquids as a of the

Incident

that e big gn-10 ind

WHERE WAS BOOTH BURIED, A MYSTERY.

Man Who Knows, But Who Refuses to Tell, Celebrates His Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Incident

(By International News Service.)

Cambridge, Conn., Nov 21.—Dr. George L. Porter and wife commemorated today their golden wedding anniversary. Dr. Porter was a close friend and confidant of Abraham Lincoln and is the last survivor of the secret guard that was entrusted with the disposition of the body of John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Lincoln.

The huby in the cly serve political bright of the forenoon. Four hours later Dr. Porter was called to arms and left his bride of a few hours. He sylvania, with later the war and was made a commanding officer before its close. He was stationed at the arsenal in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln.

of Lincoln.

Dr. Porter has faithfully guarded the secret of the burying place of Booth's body and insists that when he dies the secret will die with him.

City News in Brief

Will Play "The Freshmen." The play has at last been selected by the committees from the Sigma ama Sigma and the Lit, two societi

Has Follo

forts to ret publican or first appear note as a professional first appear note as a profession.

The state of the first and the following season he joined Dion in following season he joined Dion in Jill.

The profession square one member and profession following the first and firs

Mr. Booth was alout 44 years old and was born in Boston. His first appearance on any stage was made at the Boston theater we had any was about 5 south old. As all his family were ina nephew of Edwin Booth and a utus. Booth, the gotor, and Agnes oth, who later became the wife of m B. Schoeffel, who is now manager the Edward in Boston. He who killed himself and wife in was the elder son of Junius ure of a moving picture show in ch he was interested, unius Brutus Booth, the American become addicted to drugs and that was despondent because of the

I have given my wife a sleeping ught to ease her pain. As I can not Booth and his wife had been shot to sath. At first it was believed it was double suicide. A note found in the

the same misguided motive which processing a Booth-an uncle of this

Agnes Booth Schoeffel, who died a year killed lifs wife, was identified today as the American actor, Junius Brutus Booth atd son of the talented Edwin Booth sand son of the talented family tragedy. The Brightlingsea suicide, who first London. Double Crime in,

condency Responsible For Hyer Booth's Nephew

the Clarkes was a sister of Edwin

There remain one the stage only two Booth. which his mother, now dead, achieved the section which his mother, now dead, achieved the section when the section and the section and white the section and white the section and white the section of John Sleeper Clarks and Prother of The and Wilfred Clarks and Prother of The section Clarks and Prother of The Clarks and Prother of The Section C

For a season Mr. Booth was with Richard Manafield's London Lyceum Richard Manafield's London Lyceum

AIROTZAD