Dear Miss Booth:

Your letter received May 28th has been held up awaiting my return to the office from a trip to Boston. While there I spent several days in the Theatre Section of the Boston Public Library and am having photostats made of a great many things dealing with the Booth family. As soon as these arrive, I want to write you a further letter and can possibly tell you some things of interest.

I am herewith enclosing photostatic copy of the Affidavit which Mr Bates supplied us as having come from you. If you will compare the statements in this with the story you gave to the Minneapolis Daily Star you will find that they do not agree.

Under separate cover I am sending you a story which just appeared dealing with the Mad Booths. I am quite sure you will be interested in this and I would appreciate having any further information on statements I have made.

Thanking you for your interest and kindness,
I am

Very truly yours
