Dear Sir:

On July 25th we wrote you as follows:

"I am in receipt of your letter of July 16th.

The questions I have asked you in my previous letter are such that I think would be of very much importance to answer even before publishing your book. In checking up the matter with you it is purely with a view of ascertaining whether you or ourselves are correct.

We would like very much to hear from you with such answers as you are able to give."

To date we have not heard from you. An early reply would be appreciated.

Very truly yours
