

The Enid Daily Wave.
Feb. 23, 1903

David Is Dead.

Mayor Faubion is in receipt of the following letter of enquiry. It would seem that Conductor N. H. George, of Arkansas City knows less about the death of D. E. George than the average newspaper reader of Europe, yet he only lives a few miles away. He don't state whether he is any relation to D. E. George; he simply wants the mayor to look him up. After he finds David is dead, he will probably come in with a claim for an interest in the old trunk the only real estate David left. Here is the letter:

Winfield Division No. 245,
Order of Railway Conductors,
N. H. George, Sec.
Arkansas City, Feb. 18.

The Mayor, Enid, O. T.

Can you give me any information of the whereabouts of David E. George, who went to Oklahoma some years ago and settled near your town, or near El Reno. I have written him several times and can receive no reply of late. If you know where I can now reach him, please write me by return mail. It may be that he has moved east again.

Very truly,

N. H. George,

623 So. B. St.