

Mr. Kossenhas^{chen}~~ten~~, the present clerk at the Anstine Hotel, lived at the hotel when D. E. George did. He says, "I used to laugh at the old man when he was drunk, at which time he talked to himself a lot. Mr. Kossenhas~~ten~~chen does not believe that the tin type of St. Helen looks very much like George.