

Mr Garrett insists that that the man who first ~~to~~ came to their place ~~under~~ the Monday April 24th 1865 and was introduced ~~to them by the name~~ as a Mr Boyd by Capt Jett and who limped around that day and the next on some horse made Crutches was the very same man who was shot in the barn for he saw him after he was shot ~~and~~ when he was dying on the front porch and would swear he was the same.

Bates p 156

"was buried in a cell on the ground floor of the old Navy Prison"

Baker page 585 says body was buried under slab in cell of the old penitentiary - says nothing re old Navy prison.

What more does Bates want when he says "and the body without further identification"

When Baker states on same page an autopsy and inquest were held and Congress produced such evidence that they had as to identity of the body as that of John Wilkes Booth -
