Gentlemen:

We certainly would appreciate your giving us all the information you can about a recent exhibit of a mummy in Linton which is claimed to be John Wilkes Booth.

We would appreciate your sending us any copies of your local newspapers containing stories on this exhibit. We would also like to have any information you could give us on N. C. Newman, a resident of your town. What is his reputation for veracity. The writer wrote this man personally some time ago with reference to a story he gave out on John Wilkes Booth, but has never received an answer.

We would appreciate your giving us the foregoing information without disclosing our identity in the matter. You might tell Mr. Newman that you are a personal friend of the writer's and ask if he received a letter from me. We are interested in this from the standpoint of getting a good story if we can trace up any facts substantiating the claim.

Thanking you in advance for whatever information you can give us, we are

Very truly yours
