

"And April 13, 1867, the old Ford Theatre, on Tenth street, between E and F, was opened as the Army Medical Museum.

"Congress had already purchased the building of Mr Ford, and used it for a time as the receptacle for the captured archives of the Confederate Government."

page 477

Ten Years in Washington
Life and scenes in the National Capital
as a woman sees them

by Mary Clemmer Ames
published by A D Worthington, 1874